ON THE COVER

Many monarch butterflies (their scientific name is Danaus plexippus) fly from the US and Canada to Mexico in early winter. They travel a very long distance—sometimes over 4,800 kilometers (3,000 miles), using the position of the sun to help them find their way. At the Monarch Butterfly Biosphere Reserve in Mexico, you can see millions of monarch butterflies on trees in winter.

The Frog and the Butter

This is a frog. He's small, but he has strong legs. He can jump, and he can swim.

Today the frog is on a farm. There are cows on the farm. Look at these cows. Next to the cows, there's a bucket of milk. "Oh, what's this?" the frog asks. "Can I swim in it?"

Now the frog is in the bucket. He can swim in the milk, but he can't jump from it. He can't jump out of the bucket. "Help!" the frog says. He swims and kicks with his legs. He kicks with his legs and swims. But what's this? Now there isn't milk in the bucket. There's butter. The frog can stand on the butter, and he can jump. Hooray! The frog isn't in the bucket now.

Colors

The Color Wheel

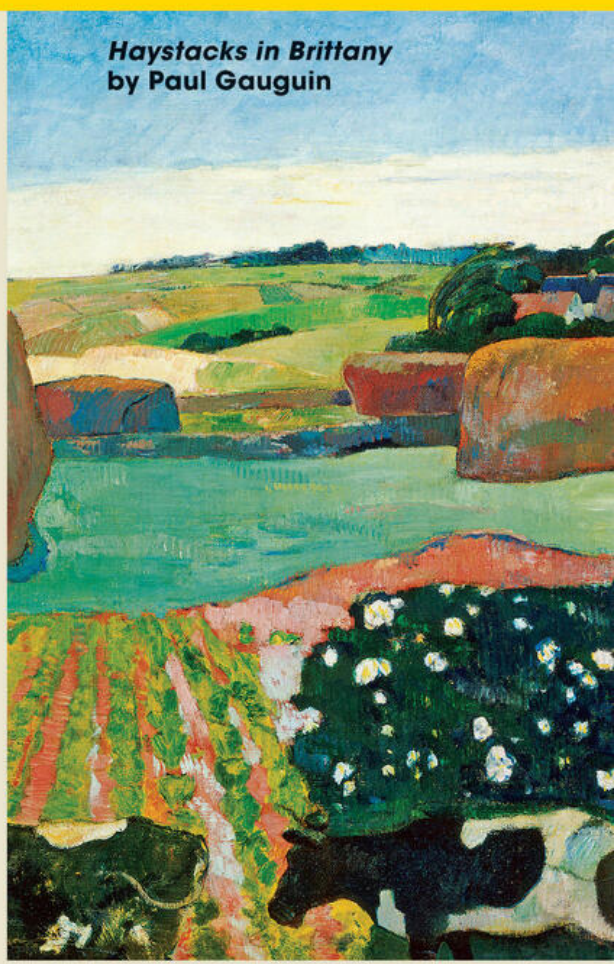
A color wheel shows us how we can mix different colors to make new colors.

Primary Colors

There are three primary colors. They're red, blue, and yellow. We can't make a primary color by mixing other colors. We can make all the colors of the rainbow when we mix primary colors together.

Secondary Colors

There are three secondary colors. They're green, orange, and purple. Look at the color wheel. We can make a secondary color by mixing the two primary colors next to it! We can make orange when we mix yellow and red.



Haystacks in Brittany
by Paul Gauguin

Black and White

We can add white to a color to make it lighter. We can make gray when we mix black and white, and pink when we mix red and white. And what happens when we add black to a color? That's right—it makes it darker!

Look 1

The world is an amazing place.

Get up close with Look, a seven-level series for young learners of English.

See something real with amazing photography, authentic stories and video, and inspiring National Geographic Explorers.

Help learners make connections in English between their lives and the world they live in through high-interest, global topics that encourage them to learn and express themselves.

With short, fresh lessons that excite students and make teaching a joy, Look gives young learners the core language, balanced skills foundation, and confidence-boosting exam support they need to use English successfully in the 21st century.

Inside every Look Student's Book:

- Easy-to-teach units present high-interest topics with a global perspective.
- A carefully graded language syllabus includes balanced skills coverage, and a phonics focus (in Starter–Level 3).
- Integrated values activities support personal development.
- Immersive School Trip lessons take learners to incredible places and provide project work opportunities.
- Reading Extra lessons promote extensive reading through real-world stories and fables.
- Coverage of international exam task types helps students master exam techniques and builds their confidence.
