Let's Go on an Insect Safari!

Today in Hong Kong, a class has a science lesson. But today's lesson isn't in the classroom. It's outside, in the park next to their school. The students have paper and pencils. Their teacher has a camera. They're on an insect safari!

What's an Insect Safari?

On an insect safari, you look for insects. You can find them in, on, and under plants and trees. You write about these insects and draw pictures.

Here are some insects the students in Hong Kong find on their insect safari:

Beetles

Look at the big photo. That's a beetle. It's called a lanternfly. It can fly and jump. Its body is blue, green, orange, yellow, white, black, and red. It has six legs and a long, colorful head!

Dragonflies

Dragonflies have six legs, too. They can fly. This dragonfly is called a blue dasher.

Spiders

Spiders are arachnids, not insects. But this class finds spiders on their insect safari. Unlike many insects, most spiders can't fly. This spider is a golden orb-weaver. Like all spiders, it has eight legs. Its legs are black, and its body is black and yellow. It's very big. It can eat a small bird!

1 Look at the photos. In pairs, describe one of the insects.

2 Listen and read. What's an insect safari? Circle all. TR: 67

A. a science exercise
B. a field trip
C. a gym class

2 Listen and read. TR: 74

People all over the world play with building bricks. They are a favorite toy for boys and girls, young and old. But do you know, you can work with building bricks? That's right! There's a job called a master builder. Cool, right? Yes, but it's not easy. There are only about 40 master builders in the whole world. And they work hard! It can take months to build a big model. Master builders use a lot of bricks, too. One model of a German soccer stadium has 1.3 million bricks!

Paul Chrzan is a master builder. Paul says, "Just build, build, build!" He thinks it's good to build different things—not just what's on the box. "Don't build the house and the spaceship," Paul says. "Build your family pet!"

3 Read and circle.

1. Building bricks are a favorite toy for only young boys / young and old people.
2. A master builder works / plays with the bricks.
3. It's not a(n) easy / cool job.

In 2013, Mom gets hurt. She can't walk. One day, one of the boys finds a baby magpie. It's hurt, too. The boy brings it home. This bird is black and white, so they call her "Penguin." The Blooms help Penguin get better. Soon, she can fly!

Penguin helps the Blooms, too. In the morning, she flies into the bedroom and the boys get up. She sits with Mom in the afternoon. At three o'clock, Penguin goes to the yard and waits. The boys come home from school. Now they can play. With Penguin, the Blooms are happy again.

One day, Penguin flies away. The Blooms love Penguin, but they aren't sad. Now she's with other birds!

That evening, Nasreddin goes to the party. He is wearing his work clothes. They are old and dirty. The people at the party don't talk to him. They don't give him any food. Nasreddin feels angry. So, he goes home.

At home, Nasreddin takes a bath. He gets dressed in nice clothes. He goes back to the party. Now, the people are happy to see him. They talk to him and give him food: chicken, fish, and rice.

Nasreddin puts the rice on his shoes. "Eat, shoes," he says. Then, he puts the fish on his shirt. "Eat, shirt." He puts the chicken in the pocket of his pants. "Eat, pants."

"What are you doing?" the rich man asks. "Are you crazy?"

"I am giving the food to my clothes," says Nasreddin. "You want to have my clothes at your party, but not me."

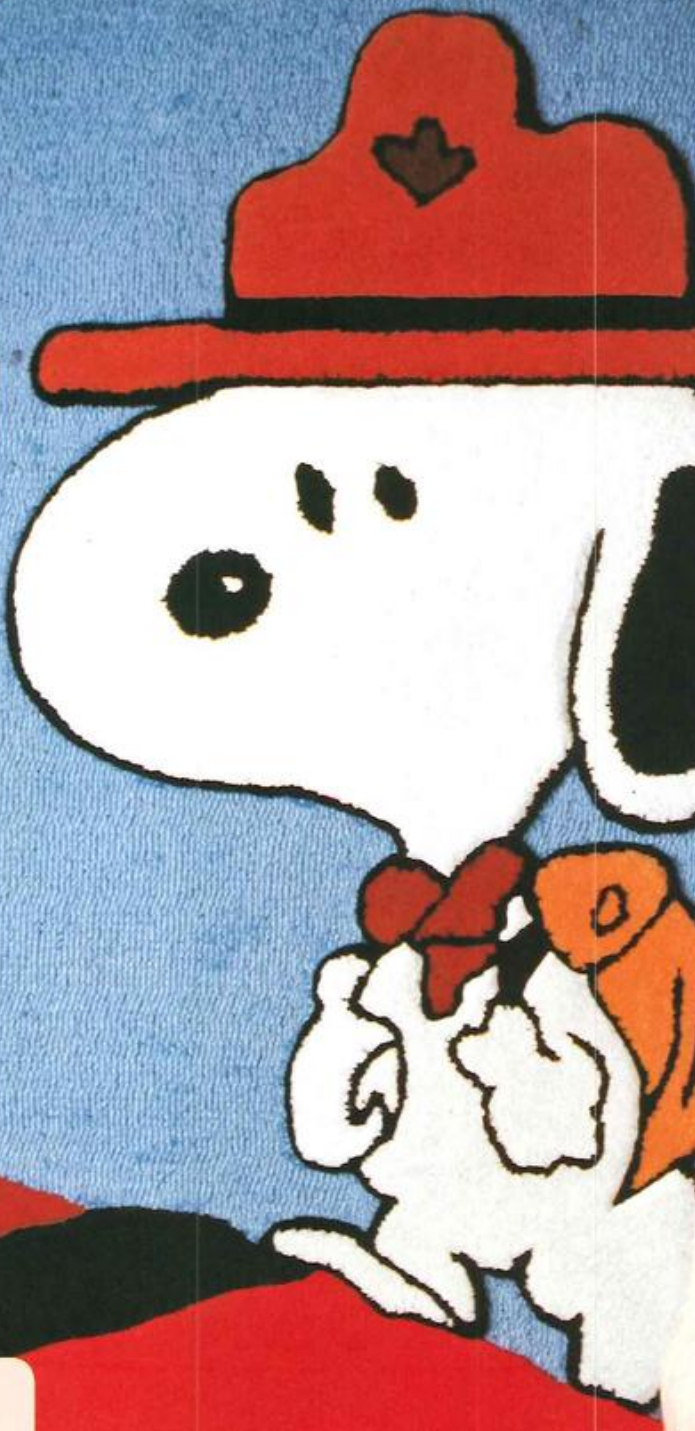
Charles was a quiet boy. He wasn't good at schoolwork or sports. Some of his classmates weren't very kind to him. But Charles was good at art. His pictures were very funny. They were fantastic!

Look at the photo. Do you know this dog? It's Snoopy. Charles is Charles Schultz, the creator of Snoopy and the Peanuts cartoons. Today, people around the world love this silly black and white dog, his owner Charlie Brown, and their friends, the Peanuts gang.

As a child, Charles Schultz's life wasn't easy. As a grown-up, Charles Schultz was a famous artist. Art was his talent. What's your talent?



3 Answer the questions.

1. What was Charles like as a child?
2. What was Charles good at?
3. What was Charles like as a grown-up?
4. What's your talent?

Song

1 Listen and read. TR: 191

2 Listen and sing. TR: 192 and 193

3 Write. Describe the tadpoles and the frogs.

A lot of little tadpoles were in the pond.
Their bodies were black and their tails were long.
They weren't loud—they were quiet.
They were little and cute!
This is how they were when they were young.

But that was then.
They're different now.
Their bodies change.
Let me tell you how.

Now a lot of huge frogs are in the pond.
Their bodies are green and their tails are gone.
They aren't quiet—they're loud!
They're big but not scary!
Now they can jump around because their legs are strong.

Cars: Then and Now

Does your family have a car? What's it like? Is it big or small? Fast or slow? Loud or quiet? Cars are different now than they were in the past. Let's take a look!

1880s

Karl Benz makes one of the first cars. It has three wheels, and it's faster than a horse or a bicycle. In 1888, his wife Bertha is the first person to go by car on a long trip. She drives to see her mother. The trip is only 105 kilometers, but it takes Bertha about twelve hours!

1910s

Henry Ford and his team make the famous Ford Model T car. Now a lot of people can get a car.

Most Ford Model T cars are black. The Model T has four wheels, but it only has one window in the front. It's not a good car to use when it's windy or raining.

1950s

Cars are every color of the rainbow, including pink! They're bigger and faster than the early cars. These cars make the air dirty, but people aren't thinking much about this. They're just enjoying their big, colorful cars!

Today

Today's cars are smaller than cars in the 1950s. Some cars are electric. People like electric cars because the air stays cleaner. They're also quieter than normal cars. Scientists are even making cars with no drivers. A robot drives the car! That's amazing!

1 Read and guess.

It has mirrors, doors, and windows, but it's not a house. You can sit down, but it's not a chair. Your body doesn't move, but you go to different places. What is it? _____

2 Listen and read. About how old are cars? Circle the number of years. TR: 198

A. 140 B. 100 C. 50

3 Read again. Match.

1. Some cars are electric. In others, there's no driver.
2. Cars were big and dirty. There were a lot of different colors, like pink!
3. There was only one window.
4. There were only three wheels.

1 Look again at the photos at the beginning of each unit. Which is your favorite? Why? Talk about it with a partner.

2 On a separate piece of paper, write a thank-you note to your teacher. Say what you enjoyed about the class and why.

3 Choose one of the following to do on your vacation:

- Write a song. Make a video of yourself singing it.
- Keep a diary for one week of your vacation. Say what you do on each day.
- Write a review of something you experience on vacation (a book, a film, a restaurant, etc.). Say what you like and don't like.
- Take a photo of something interesting you see. Write about the photo.

The Yungas Road, Bolivia

Let's go high in the mountains to the Yungas Road in Bolivia. It's the world's most dangerous road. Buses, trucks, cars, and bicycles are on this road all the time. Are you ready for the ride? It's a little scary, so hold on!

1 BEFORE YOU WATCH Look at the photo. Write T for True or F for False.

1. This is a photo of a car on a road. ☐
2. This road is in a town. ☐
3. Trucks and buses probably go slow on this road. ☐

2 WHILE YOU WATCH Read and check (✔). ▶ Video 16

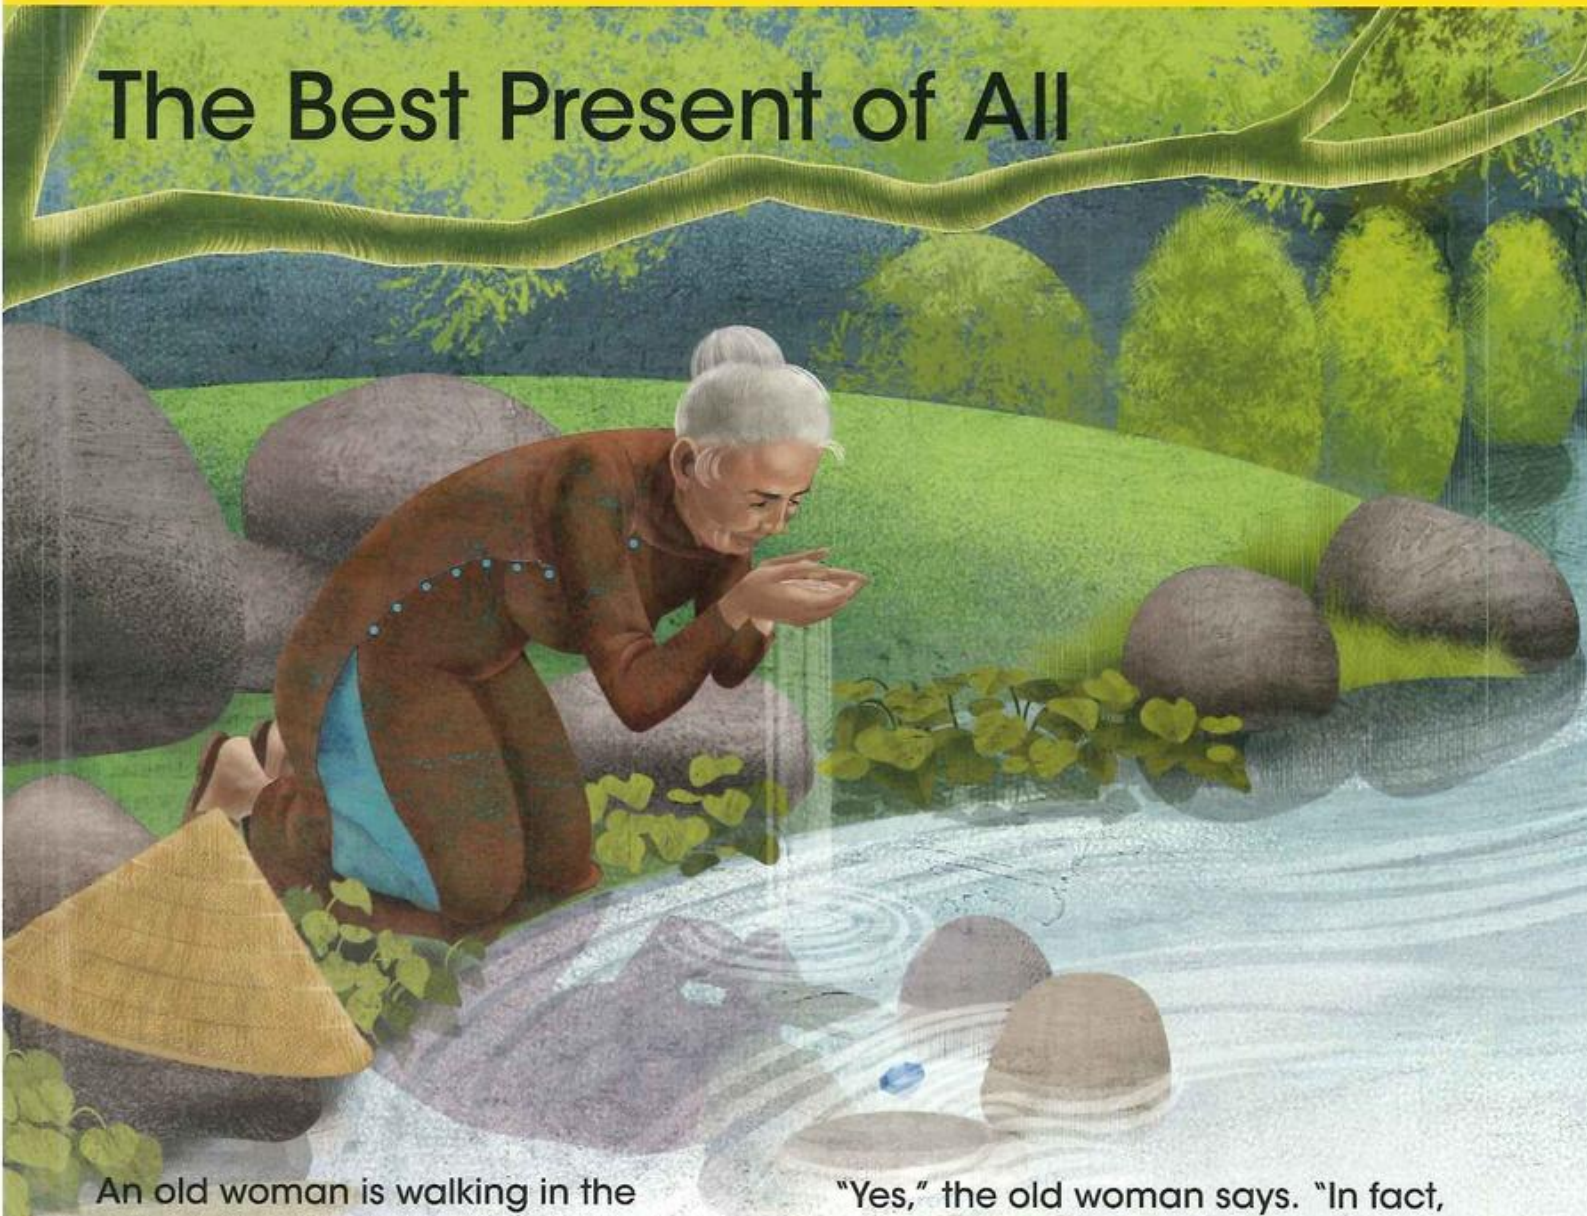
I think the Yungas Road is _____ and _____ .

I want / don't want to go on the Yungas Road because _____ .

4 PROJECT Make a fact file about a famous road.

1. Find out this information:
   - How long is the road?
   - Where does it go?
   - What does it go past?
   - Why is it famous?
2. Include a photo.
3. Share with the class.

The Best Present of All



An old woman is walking in the mountains. She is tired and thirsty. She stops by a stream to drink some water. She sees a blue stone in the water. She picks it up. It is a beautiful jewel. She puts it in her bag and starts walking again.

She meets a young man. He is tired and hungry. She opens her bag to get him some food. As she does, the young man sees the blue jewel.

"What a beautiful jewel," he says. "Can I hold it?"

"Yes," the old woman says. "In fact, you can have it. It's my present to you."

"Oh, thank you!" the young man says. "Now, I can have a new house and new clothes."

Then the man goes into town. He looks at the nice stores and big houses. "Do I really want these things?" he thinks.

Three days later, the old woman sees him again. He has the jewel in his hand.

"Thank you for the jewel," he says. "But I don't want it."

The old woman smiles. "What do you want?"

"I want to be kind, like you," he says. "Can you teach me?"
