1 Listen and read. TR: 4

Simple present and present progressive

We use the simple present for things that we do all the time or that we do many times. We often use it with time expressions like every day, on Mondays, and once a week.

They fight fires in the forest every summer.

We use the present progressive to talk about things that are happening now. We often use it with time expressions like now, right now, and today.

They aren't fighting a fire today. They're training.

This man isn't jumping out of a plane for fun.

2 Complete the text with the verbs in parentheses. Use the simple present or the present progressive.

My mom is a police officer. She 1._____ (work) at a police station in Seoul. She 2._____ (drive) a police car every day. From Monday to Friday, she 3._____ (eat) her lunch at work. Police officers in Korea 4._____ (work) on weekends and at night, too.

Today, my mom 5._____ (do) something different. She 6._____ (visit) an elementary school and she 7._____ (talk) to the children about her job. The children 8._____ (ask) questions about her badges and her radio.

3 Work in pairs. Ask and answer.

1. What / wear / school / every / day?

LESSON 3

Reading

1 Look at the photo. What is the man doing?

2 What is the movie Walking with Giants about? Listen and read. TR: 5

Walking with Giants

Hans Weise is a movie director. He makes many different kinds of movies. He likes making animated movies. There aren't usually any actors in these movies. Hans uses models instead. He works with a designer, Fernando Baptista, to make models of people, places, and objects. Fernando paints the models, and then Hans takes photos of them. After he takes a photo, he moves the models. Then he takes another photo. At the end, he puts all the photos together to make a movie. This is called "stop-motion animation."

Walking with Giants is about the statues on Easter Island, a small island in the middle of the Pacific Ocean. The statues are very big and heavy. How did they get there? No one knows for sure, but there are different ideas. Hans and Fernando make animations with models to show these ideas. One idea is that people moved the statues there a long time ago. Hans and Fernando use toy dolls as models of the people. Walking with Giants is about four minutes long, but it took four weeks of work!

3 Match the words in bold in the text with their meanings.

1. a small copy of something
2. a movie people make with drawings or models
3. a person who draws how to make something
4. a person who makes a movie

4 Read again. Answer the questions.

1. Who paints the models?
2. What does Hans do before he takes a photo?
3. Why did Hans and Fernando make this movie?
4. How long is the movie?
5. Would you like to be a movie director or a designer? Why?

Adverbs of frequency

We use adverbs of frequency to show how often we do things.

always ■■■■■ usually ■■■■□ often ■■■□□ sometimes ■■□□□ rarely ■□□□□ never □□□□□

We use them before verbs in the simple present, but after the verb to be.

The designer often makes two or three models.
They are usually difficult to paint.

2 Put the adverbs of frequency in Hans Weise's description.

1. I use toys for people and animals. (sometimes)
2. I put the camera on a table. (always)
3. I hold it in my hand, because it can move. (never) I take a picture of the models, move them a little, and then take another picture. (usually)
4. I take five pictures for each one second of a movie. (usually) Then I put the pictures on my computer.
5. I have hundreds of pictures. (often) I make the animation with a computer program.
6. It's easy to make animated movies, but they are very long. (rarely)

1 Read the interview. What is Kobie's job?

An Interview with
Kobie Boykins

Where do you work, Kobie?

I work at NASA in California. NASA is the US's space agency.

What's your job?

I'm an engineer. I make robots.

Where do your robots go?

They go into space and to other planets, like Mars.

Do you like your job?

Yes, I do. I love it! It's amazing to think that my robots are traveling in space right now.

What is your favorite robot?

My first robot was called the Sojourner Rover. It was the first robot to go to Mars. It had three cameras on it for taking photos.

What are you working on right now?

I'm making a new robot for the next trip to Mars. It has 23 cameras and an arm to pick things up.

2 Read. Then look at the interview again and answer the questions.

When we do an interview, we usually follow these steps:

- First, we think about the information we want to know.
- Then, we write some questions.
- Finally, we ask the questions and write the answers.

Which questions are about:

1. Kobie's job?
2. how Kobie feels?

INDIAN
Music and Dance

My name is Soumik Datta. My brother, Souvid, is a photographer. We live in England, but we were born in India. We wanted to learn more about dance and music in India, and we wanted to make a movie. So, in 2015, we visited India and saw more than 100 different musicians.

One group of musicians from Karnataka is famous for its dance called "The Kunitha." They wear colorful costumes and many of them play the drums. They sing and jump, too. All the men are farmers, but they love dancing.

We filmed their show. It was incredible! The dancers carried big drums and they banged them loudly. They all shouted and they kicked their feet. Then they played their drums quietly and some of the dancers climbed onto the drums to make a tower. Then they banged their drums quickly. It was very exciting.

You can watch these dancers playing their drums in one of our programs. We hope you enjoy it!

3 Read again. What did Soumik and Souvid see? Circle the correct answer.

1. The dancers carried / kicked their drums to the field.
2. They jumped / climbed high in the air and banged / kicked their feet.
3. Then the dancers banged / kicked their drums loudly and shouted / climbed loudly, too.
4. Some dancers climbed / carried onto the drums.

4 Read again. Correct the sentences.

1. Soumik's brother is a musician.
2. The dancers are all doctors.
3. They always play their drums loudly.
4. The show was boring.

Writing A Review

1 Read the review. Did Jack like the show?

A Review of Annie by Jack

Last night, we went to a theater in New York to see a musical called Annie. It's about the adventures of an 11-year-old girl. She's looking for her parents. Some of the story is sad, but it has a happy ending! There's a lot of singing and dancing.

I loved the musical because the songs were great. The actors were very good singers and they danced very well, too! There was a big orchestra and it played loudly. There were flutes, violins, cellos, and drums. I liked the flutes because they played beautifully in the slow songs. At the end, I clapped for a long time. I didn't want it to end because I loved it so much!

2 Read. Then, look at Jack's review again and answer the questions.

A review gives information about an event, e.g., a show, movie, or a book. It usually:

- says what the event was.
- says when the event was.
- describes the good things and explains why they were good.
- describes the bad things, too.

1. What is the review about?
2. When did Jack see the show?
3. What did he like?
4. What bad things does he write about?

3 Writing Skill because

a. Read. Then look at Jack's review again and complete the sentences.

We use because to explain why we like or don't like something.

1. Jack liked the musical because _____.
2. Jack liked the flutes _____.

b. Match.

1. I liked the costumes because
2. The drummer was great because
3. I liked the actors because
4. I didn't like the end because

A. she played about ten different kinds of drum!
B. they were very funny.
C. it was very sad.
D. they were beautiful colors.

ABOUT THE VIDEO

In the video three children talk about traditional instruments from their countries. Shiven talks about the sitar and the tabla. The sitar is usually 1.2 meters long. It has five melody strings, one or two drone strings to accentuate the rhythm, and up to thirteen more strings which add to the performance. The tabla consists of a smaller wooden drum on the right and a larger metal drum on the left.

Redwood Forests

You're going to watch wildlife photographer Michael "Nick" Nichols in action. He's taking photos of the animals and trees in a redwood forest on the west coast of the US. Redwoods are huge trees. Many of the trees are more than 1,500 years old. They're the tallest trees in the world, and their trunks can be nine meters thick! They can grow to more than 100 meters tall, so it's difficult to take photos of them. Nick needs to find some special ways to do it.

1 Read about redwood trees. Answer the questions.

1. How old are the oldest redwood trees?
2. Why is it difficult to take photos of redwood trees?

2 Watch the video. Put the sentences in order (1–5). Video 3

Writing An E-mail

LESSON 6

1 Read Uma's e-mail. Why was she tired?

To: Toby
From: Uma
Subject: A wedding!

Hi Toby,

How are you? My weekend was fun! Yesterday, it was my aunt's wedding party.

First of all, I went with my mom to help with the preparations. We made big circles of flowers for people to wear around their necks and in their hair. Later, we watched the wedding ceremony. My aunt and uncle drank a special drink. It was milk with banana. After the ceremony, we went home to change our clothes. I wore a blue and gold dress. Then, we went back to the wedding. Everyone danced and sang. At the end, we all threw flower petals on my aunt and uncle! It was beautiful and everyone was very happy.

I went home to bed at 11 o'clock. I was very tired!

See you soon!

Uma

The Olympic Dream!

Eric Moussambani was a star at the Olympics in Sydney, Australia in 2000. The swimmer from Equatorial Guinea didn't win a medal, but the crowd loved him.

Eric only started swimming in January, 2000. He was 21 years old. He practiced in a small swimming pool in a hotel. When he saw the Olympic pool in Sydney, he was surprised. It was huge! It was 50 meters long. He couldn't see the other end of it! The pool at home was only 12 meters long.

In Eric's race, there were two other swimmers. But they both jumped in the pool too early and the referee stopped the race. When the race started again, Eric was the only swimmer and he was nervous. Everyone watched him. He started to swim very quickly, but soon he felt very tired. The crowd cheered "Eric! Eric!" This helped him to finish. After the race, Eric was a hero. His time was very slow, but it didn't matter. People thought he was very brave.

The Tightrope Across Niagara Falls

There was once a famous tightrope walker named Charles Blondin. He lived about 150 years ago. Blondin could do many amazing things on a tightrope: he could stand on one leg, he could sit on a chair, he could stop and make something to eat, he could even walk with his eyes closed.

Blondin was from France, but he did many famous tightrope walks across Niagara Falls, between Canada and the US—a distance of 340 meters, and 50 meters above the water. People said that it was impossible and that he could never do it. But Blondin did it, not just once but many times. And each time, a crowd waited on the other side of the water to watch him. And each time, they cheered loudly when he arrived.

There are many stories about Blondin. People say that one time, he crossed the Falls pushing a wheelbarrow with potatoes in it. The crowd watched. They couldn't believe their eyes. "Ooh!" and "Aaah!" they shouted as he walked carefully to the other side. When he arrived, they cheered more loudly than ever.

He put down the wheelbarrow and looked at the crowd.

"So, do you think I can walk back across the Falls with the wheelbarrow?" he asked them.

"Yes, you can!" they all shouted.

"And do you think I can walk back with a man in the wheelbarrow, too?" he asked.

"Yes!" they shouted again. "You are the greatest tightrope walker in the world. You can do anything."

"OK," said Blondin. He waited for a moment. "Then who wants to climb into the wheelbarrow?" he asked. He looked at the people, but they were all very quiet.

The Desert Sands!

Dubai is the largest and most important city in the United Arab Emirates. Dubai is by the ocean, but all the land around it is desert. Many people want to work and live there. The most popular place to live is by the beach. It is much cooler there. But there isn't much space to live by the beach anymore. In 2001, people started to build the Jumeirah Islands on the water. They used rocks and sand to make them. They look like palm trees!

Outside Dubai, there are huge hills of sand called "dunes." There are thousands of kilometers of them. There is an exciting sport you can do on them: sandboarding! This is the same as snowboarding, but it's on sand instead of snow! It's a lot of fun, but you need to be careful, too—it's dangerous to be in the hot sun for a long time. Drive up to the top of the dunes, then sandboard down. The worst part is that you have to walk back up afterwards!

3 Read again. Write T (true) or F (false).

1. There are other cities in the United Arab Emirates that are bigger than Dubai. F
2. In Dubai, people usually want to live near the beach because it is cooler there. T
3. People made the Jumeirah Islands. T
4. There are dunes inside the city of Dubai. F

Stay Warm and Enjoy the Show!

People travel to Lapland, Finland, from around the world to see the Northern Lights. It's the most amazing natural show. At Kakslauttanen Resort, you can see the Northern Lights from your own igloo! Lie down in your bed and look through the glass roof. You have the best view of this exciting show. And you are warmer and more comfortable than the people standing in the snow!

When to Go
- The best time to see the Northern Lights is between September and March.

Transportation
- There's a bus to our resort from Ivalo Airport. We also have a bus with a glass roof for large groups!

What to Wear
- It's very cold in the winter: between 0°C and -40°C. Don't forget your hat, gloves, boots, and a warm coat!

Mismatched Socks Day

We usually wear socks to keep our feet warm. But socks can have a message, too!

Who says your socks need to match? It was Mismatched Socks Day on Monday November 13th, and we celebrated it at our school last week. We met on the playground at 8:45 before school started. Everyone wore different socks on each foot. It was a lot of fun, but why did we do it?

Well, all week we talked about bullying at school. A bully is a person who hurts or frightens other people. Older and stronger children sometimes bully the younger, weaker children, or children who are different from them. We want to stop bullying at our school. So, on Mismatched Socks Day, we wear different socks to show everyone that it is good to be different and that all children are important. Everyone needs to feel happy and safe at school.

Let's stop bullying!

2 Match the words in bold in the text with their meanings.

1. less strong
2. to look the same as another thing
3. to make someone feel unhappy
4. to make someone feel scared

Marbles

Children played marbles in Roman times nearly 2,000 years ago! Marbles are small glass or clay balls. You usually draw a circle with chalk. You have to throw your marble to hit other marbles out of the circle.

Hopscotch

This is an old game from Roman times, too. In Argentina, it is called rayuela and in Malaysia, it is called ketingting. First, you have to draw squares and numbers with chalk. Then, you take turns throwing a small stone, and hopping and jumping on the squares.

Chinese Jump Rope

This game started in China in the 7th century. Two children have to stand with a long circle of elastic around their legs. Another child jumps and makes shapes with the elastic using their feet. All the children sing a song at the same time.

3 Read again. Write H (hopscotch), M (marbles), or C (Chinese jump rope).

1. You don't use chalk.
2. You play this with small balls.
3. You usually sing.
4. The Romans didn't play this.
5. You have to throw things.
6. You have to jump. ,

I have to read this school book, but it's just no fun.

When I was your age, there was no time for fun.
I had to milk the cow and I had to clean the truck!
But, Grandpa…
Yes?
We both know that you didn't have a cow!
And we both know that you didn't have a truck!

This homework's really difficult, and I have to clean my room.
I have to put my clothes away. I have to make my bed.
Please can I play in the park instead?

We did hours of homework. Five of us shared a room!
I had to feed the goat and had to work on the farm!

Let's Grow Our Food!

Fresh food is healthier than junk food, but it's often more expensive. In some towns and cities, people are learning to grow their own fruit and vegetables in community gardens. They share the garden and take care of the plants together.

Ana and her 14-year-old daughter, Marjorie, live in Quito, Ecuador. Every morning, Ana goes to the community garden. Marjorie often goes with her. Ten families work together in the garden. First, they plant seeds and they water the plants. They pull out weeds and pick the vegetables when they're ready. It's hard work, but they grow a lot of food! They eat a lot of the vegetables and they sell some at the market, too.

Ana enjoys sharing this garden because it brings people together. The children love working outside and watching the vegetables grow. They are also eating more healthily now. "I didn't like vegetables before," Marjorie says, "but now I like to eat a lot of corn and potatoes. They're delicious and they come from our garden."

3 Match the words in bold in the text with their meanings.

1. plants growing where you don't want them _____
2. unhealthy food _____
3. food that is natural _____
4. Plants grow from these _____ .

The Wind and the Sun

One day, the Wind said to the Sun: "There are not many things in this world stronger than us, are there?"
"You are right," said the Sun. "But we are strong in different ways."
"Different ways?" asked the Wind. "You are saying that because you are weaker than me."
"Really? Do you think so?" asked the Sun. "Then let's have a competition to see how strong we are."
"Good idea," agreed the Wind.

Far below them, there was a road. And on the road they could see a man walking. He wore a winter coat and a scarf.
"I know," said the Sun. "Let's see which one of us can take the coat and scarf off that man."
"Ha!" said the Wind. "That's easy for me. I can blow them off him."

So the Wind blew and blew. The leaves flew from the trees. The animals on the ground were scared. Even the birds were scared.
The man was very cold. "Ooh," he said. "What a terrible day!"
He held his coat. He held his scarf. And he didn't take them off. The Wind blew more. But the man held his coat more. In the end, the Wind was so tired, he had to stop.

Then, the Sun came out from behind a cloud. The Sun was hot. "Ooh," the man said. "What a beautiful day it is now!"
He took off his scarf. The Sun grew hotter and hotter. The man was so hot he took off his coat and sat down under a tree.
"How did you do that?" asked the Wind.
"Ah!" said the Sun. "I told you, there are different ways to be strong. You can blow the leaves from the trees and you can make the animals scared. But sometimes, when you want people to do things for you, it is better not to force them."

Flying Machines

Drones are machines that we can control from the ground. They fly, but they don't have pilots. They can carry cameras or other things. In some places, drones have important jobs!

In Rwanda, there are many hills and mountains. It takes a long time to travel between villages by car, so doctors use drones to get medicine or blood quickly. They send a text to people in a medical center in the middle of the country. The people then prepare a box with the medicine to put on a drone, and it flies to the doctors. The drone uses satellites to fly to the right place. It drops the box and it flies back.

Drones can help wild animals, too. In Borneo, scientists want to help and protect orangutans. They need to study their nests, but the orangutans build them at the top of tall trees. They're difficult to find, so the scientists use drones to fly over the forests and take photos.

Sixty years from now, what do you think will be different in schools?

I'm sure that schools will be very different. I don't think there will be pens or paper in the classroom. Students will only have tablets or laptops to send homework and questions to their teacher.

Maybe the teachers will be robots! The real teachers will be at home, and they'll see everything through a camera on the robot. I think robots will make the food in the school cafeteria, too.

I think students will use VR headsets a lot. Their teacher will take them on virtual school trips every week. Maybe one week they'll go to see the Amazon rainforest and the next week they'll go to the North Pole!

Clean Birds

We take a shower every day and wash with soap and shampoo. We use a towel to get dry and we brush our teeth with a toothbrush and some toothpaste. Animals have their own ways of staying clean.

Some birds take "dust baths." They roll on the ground to take off the dirt and insects, and then they shake the dust off their bodies. Most birds also use their beaks to get dust and insects out of their feathers. They use oil from their bodies to clean the feathers, too. Birds have about 25,000 feathers, so it's not an easy job! But why do they do it? Because it keeps their feathers strong, and the oil stops them from getting wet.

Oxpeckers are birds that like to clean other animals. They live in Tanzania, Africa, and they eat insects from the fur of giraffes. This helps to keep giraffes healthy. Sometimes, the oxpeckers clean the giraffes' ears! They take small pieces of food from between their teeth, too. They also clean other animals like zebras, rhinos, and buffaloes.

3 Match the words in bold in the text with their meanings.

1. You use it to wash your hands and face. _____
2. You use it to wash your hair. _____

Writing Giving Advice

LESSON 6

1 Read the text. Answer the questions.

1. Who do you think is asking for help?
2. Who do you think is giving advice?

Problem

I take a long time to do my homework. I think of other things all the time! Do you have any advice to help me work more quickly?

Advice

Well, here are some tips to help you!

First, you can't work well when you're tired, so you shouldn't work late at night. You should keep your desk neat, too. Then you can find your pens and books easily. You shouldn't do other things at the same time. You shouldn't listen to music or watch TV, and you shouldn't send text messages. It's a good idea to put your phone in another room. You should take a break to have healthy snacks, but you shouldn't eat your meals when you are doing your homework.

Good luck!

2 Read. Then look at the text again and answer the questions.

When we write a text to give advice, we usually include many different ideas and reasons why.

1. How many different ideas are there in the second message?
2. What reasons does the writer give?
3. Think of two more tips to help someone do their homework more quickly.

3 Writing Skill Words that sound the same

a. Circle the correct answer.

1. You should brush you're / your teeth two or three times a day.
2. You should put on a sweater when you're / your cold.
3. Children shouldn't do they're / their homework at night.
4. They want to rest because they're / their tired.

b. Think of other words that sound the same but have different spellings.

4 Work in pairs. Choose a question and reply with your advice.

"I'm not sure how to eat healthily. Do you have any ideas?"

"What should I do to stay in shape?"

"How can I make friends more easily?"

Unforgettable Cities

When Stephen Wiltshire was young, he couldn't communicate well. He said his first word (paper) when he was five. Then teachers saw that he could draw really well. He loved looking at London, and he started to draw the buildings. Stephen has a special kind of memory called a photographic memory. He remembers everything that he sees. It's like a photo in his mind.

Stephen has visited many cities around the world. Sometimes, he flies in a helicopter to see the city. He looks at the office buildings and the skyscrapers, the highways, and the parks. Later the same day, he starts to draw. He can remember the number of windows, floors, and chimneys on each building! He has drawn London, Mexico City, Istanbul, and New York. In this photo, Stephen is drawing Mexico City. He hasn't finished it, but he has drawn most of the city center.

Stephen has also started to draw 3D pictures. He wears a VR headset and draws the shapes in the air!

She told us about her experience in the Galapagos Islands.*

There were sea lions on all the beaches along the coast. It was amazing! I saw a humpback whale for the first time. It jumped and splashed its tail. One day, we went to Genovesa Island. There were thousands of sea birds all around me. They didn't hide. We could see them really easily. My favorite was the red-footed booby. It had a blue beak and red feet.

Another day, we went to Española Island and we saw an albatross. This bird is more than two meters from the end of one wing to the other. That's huge!

I learned how to drive our ship, Endeavour II. I drove it across the equator. It was very exciting. We also saw many kinds of fish. My favorite was the parrot fish. It has a mouth like a parrot's beak. I learned so much about our beautiful planet. I'd love to go back there one day.

3 Read the text again. Answer the questions.

1. Where were the sea lions?
2. Which bird had a blue beak?
3. What bird did Sophie see at Española Island?
4. What did Sophie learn to do on the trip?
5. Why is the parrot fish called parrot fish?

ABOUT THE PHOTO

The photo shows two girls with a Galapagos tortoise. This is the largest type of tortoise and can weigh more than 200 kilograms. They can live to be more than 100 years old and are herbivores. Some people confuse tortoises and turtles. The main difference is that tortoises live only on land, whereas turtles can live on land or in water.

The girls in the photo are on the National Geographic Global Explorers program, which launched in 2017. The program offers families the opportunity to travel to incredible locations to experience nature while learning exploration skills, such as map-reading or scientific journaling. Sophie and Aman were two of the first participants in the program.

Twelve Challenges

At the start of the year,
I said to my brother,
"Let's do a challenge every month.
We can do it together."

Chorus
Now it's the end of the year.
We've done twelve challenges.
We've jumped and we've explored!
We've discovered new things!

In January, we went horseback riding.
In February, we climbed rocks.
In March, we searched for seashells.
In April, we made clocks.
Chorus

In May, we learned to juggle.
In June, we followed a map.
In July, we picked strawberries.
In August, we made jam.
Chorus

In September, we went canoeing.
In October, we jumped the waves.
In November, we swam in rivers.
In December, we explored a cave.
Chorus

VALUE Challenge yourself.

The Man Who Wanted a Simple Life

There was a very busy man. He lived in a big city with factories and shops and tall buildings. One day he said, "I have made my home here. I have bought everything I want. But I don't need all these things. I want to have a simple life."

So he left his home and all his things and went to live in the forest. He took one thing with him. It was a piece of cloth to wear. In the forest, he built a small hut and for a few months, he was happy.

But there were rats in the forest. "That's OK," said the man, "I will get a cat." And he did. But the cat wanted milk. "That's OK," said the man, "I will get a cow." And he did. But he did not know how to take care of the cow. "That's OK," said the man, "I will get a boy to take care of the cow." And he did. But the boy didn't have a place to live. "That's OK," said the man, "I can build a small house for him." And he did. "But who is going to clean my house?" said the boy. "It's OK," said the man, "I will get a housekeeper." And he did. And soon, some of the housekeeper's friends came, too. And so they built more houses. In this way, a little town grew.

And the man said, "What has happened? I wanted to leave my busy life, but it has followed me here!"

Hunting for Fish

People in different parts of the world eat different kinds of food. You're going to see a video about some people, called the Bajau people, who live on the coast of Borneo. Borneo is a big island in Southeast Asia. The Bajau people live in small houses above the water. The houses have long, wooden legs. The people have small fishing boats and they find most of their food in the sea. They sometimes eat seaweed and many different kinds of fish.

1 Read about life in Bajau. Answer the questions.

1. Where do the Bajau people live?
2. What kind of food do they eat and where does it come from?

2 Watch the video. Write T (true) or F (false). Video 16

1. Matthieu Paley is a photographer. ☐
2. The Bajau people cook the food on their boats. ☐
3. Eating seaweed is good for your skin. ☐
4. The Bajau people eat the outside part of the sea urchins. ☐
5. The man in the video catches an octopus. ☐

Annie Takes On a Challenge

In the US, 100 years ago, women usually stayed at home with their families and men went to work. Women certainly didn't go exploring, but Annie Londonderry decided to do just that! Annie was born in Latvia in about 1870. She moved to Boston in the US when she was 18, and she married and had three children.

There's a story that two rich businessmen were in a restaurant together. Annie could hear them.

"These days," one of them said, "a woman can do everything that a man can."

The other man didn't agree with him.

"Thomas Stevens cycled around the world in 15 months and he earned 5,000 dollars, too. A woman couldn't do that."

"I'm sure a woman could," the other man said. Annie told them she was ready for the challenge!

So, a bicycle company gave Annie a bike. People put advertisements on her bike and gave her money. Annie had to leave her children at home with her husband. This was very unusual for a woman in those days. First, Annie cycled from Boston to New York, and then Chicago. She thought her bike was too heavy, so she bought a lighter one. She changed her clothes, too! Her dress wasn't comfortable, so she wore pants instead.

Back in New York, Annie carried her bike onto a ship, and traveled across the Atlantic Ocean to France. In the south of France, Annie got on a ship to Japan. She stopped in Egypt, Vietnam, and China, too. And from Japan, she traveled by ship again, back to the US. She was very popular and many people came to watch her pass by. More people gave her money. She sold photos, scarves, and handkerchiefs, too!

Exactly 15 months after she started, Annie returned home to Boston. And she had more than 5,000 dollars. What an achievement!
